

US Economic History

ECB-254 Term 1 2009-10

Prerequisites:

ECB 102 and INT 201

Cost:

This course entails an additional cost of $75, which covers transportation and accommodation.

Contact:

Santhi Hejeebu

shejeebu@cornellcollege.edu

This course takes an economic approach to the study of America's past, exploring some of the leading personalities and organizations responsible for America's second industrial revolution from 1865-1914.

Students in this course will spend four days in Chicago. Students will experience the historic town of Pullman, visit the Museum of Science and Industry and conduct historical research at the Newberry Library. Our class will stay at a youth hostel in the heart of downtown.

