

Race you to the Acropolis?

Greek Archaeology

The course will be an introduction to archaeology in Greece in the Bronze, Classical, Roman, and Byzantine Periods. We will begin the course on campus with a brief overview of Greece in the Bronze, Classical, Roman, and Byzantine Periods. We will then spend most of the course visiting sites throughout Greece, including Athens, Delphi, Olympia, Mycenae, Corinth, Bassae, and Crete. We will see temples, palaces, cities, sanctuaries, theaters, athletic facilities, and government buildings. In addition we will spend time in the major museums of Greece examining sculpture, vases, jewelry, and items of everyday use in the ancient world. For students interested in anthropology, architecture, art, art history, classics, history, politics, religion, and theatre.

Prerequisite: one course from GRE, LAT, CLA, or ANT
Course Cost: $4,000 (est.) [includes airfare, in-country transportation, hotels, some meals, excursions/guides]

Questions? Contact:

Amanda Ross (aross)
John Gruber-Miller (jgruber-miller)

Old Sem – 2nd floor
College Hall 312