DURING Fellowship:

- Weekly blog summaries are due every Sunday, providing an overview of the previous week (see next page)
- Blogs should include at least 3-4 photos each week and utilize one as a dominant/feature image.
- Save/collect several of the best, marketing-worthy shots of you on the job, posing in front of company signage, & with site mentor where it should be clear where you are and what your internship is. These should be saved or emailed using largest file format or highest resolution for use on web and Cornell Report.

AFTER Fellowship

- Post-Fellowship Report (3-5 pages) due 2 weeks after your last day of fellowship _____
- Hand-written thank-you card to site sponsor and donor (if you have one) on Fellows stationary.
- Misc items: additional marketing photos, catch-up blog entries.
- Prep for Showcase and PowerPoint presentation; submit guest names for showcase dinner, etc.

Blogging & Final Report Prompts

Fellows will be asked to submit weekly blog posts (500-800 words) and a 3-5 page report at the conclusion of the internship, reflecting upon the overall experience.

Read Wordpress Blogs for Cornell Fellows to learn what to include and how to format. You can view the Cornell Fellows Blog to see what other Fellows have done. Notice that more pictures with you IN the picture make for a better blog (and a better Showcase presentation).

Blogs and reports should always address the following:

- General overview to the organization (Blog 1 and final report).
- A general summary of tasks and projects (each week or overall for final report).
- What have you learned personally & professionally? How has Cornell prepared you for the experience?
- How is the opportunity influencing your personal and professional plans?
- Keep in mind things like the networking you are doing and the interpersonal interactions you are having with people such as your site mentor, colleagues, and the broader people in the community that help expand your knowledge about possible careers.
- What are you learning about the history of the field, the culture of the organization, and the environment you are in? How does that influence the work you are doing?
- Blog posts and Fellowship reports will be monitored by BCI staff and Fellows will be required to make any necessary edits requested by staff.

***Fellows should include at least 3-4 photos per blog post (with captions) and take more photos than they think they might need. All high resolution photos should be held onto for use in the showcase presentation. Copying images from the blog for the presentation will not produce high quality enough images.

IMPORTANT:

If you have any questions regarding the necessary forms or assignment requirements, contact the BCI as soon as possible! Failure to complete the Cornell Fellows pre-departure requirements may result in delayed funds. Failure to complete requirements of the program during or after the internship may result in the student being asked to return some or all of their stipend or their student account may be charged. (see Cornell Fellowship Agreement.)
